The University of Nebraska Sports Information Office is always interested in helping members of the media in their coverage of the Husker baseball program. Photographs, feature ideas, statistics, travel plans and video highlights are available through the sports information office.

Interviews

All player interviews must be arranged through the Nebraska Sports Information Office, preferably 24 hours in advance. The best time to interview players and coaches is directly following afternoon practices. Generally, Nebraska will practice from 2 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on weekdays. In addition to after practice, the best time to reach Coach Dave Van Horn for interviews is in the morning at (402) 472-2269. Postgame interviews with Van Horn and NU players will follow the game on the field.

Media Access

Working media personnel are seated in the press box, but seating is limited. Photographers (still and video) may shoot from the tops of both dugouts and down the first base side. Buck Beltzer Stadium has a fully equipped press box with two separate radio/TV booths. Any visiting station wishing to broadcast should notify the sports information office one week before the game.

Media Services

One telephone is provided in the press box free of charge on a first-come first-served basis. Radio stations or other media sources wishing to install a phone line should contact Ruth Michalecki, Director of University of Nebraska Telecommunications at (402) 472-2000.

Buck Beltzer Stadium

This year Buck Beltzer Stadium, the home of the Husker baseball team, celebrates its 20th anniversary.

Officially dedicated in 1979 as Buck Beltzer Field, the stadium has grown into one of the best baseball facilities in the Midwest, not to mention the Big 12 Conference.

In those 20 years, NU has a record of 442-120 (a winning percentage of .786) in home contests. The Buck is a place where the Huskers have had great success and where opposing teams have struggled to find a way to win.

Buck Beltzer Stadium has seen its share of changes. In 1977, the Husker Diamond, the name of the stadium prior to 1979, had an artificial playing surface, permanent seating and covered dugouts installed to upgrade the facility.

Then in the spring of 1979, the official baseball site of the University of Nebraska since the mid 1940's, was renamed Buck Beltzer Field when a generous donation from the Beltzer family (Jim of Grand Island and Mrs. Bob Flory of Fremont) made the rest of the development of the stadium (aluminum seats, press box, restrooms and concession stands) possible. The stadium received its name from O.A. "Buck" Beltzer, a well-known Husker athlete and Grand Island businessman.

For the first year, the stadium had a seating capacity of less than 1,000. But that expanded to 1,500 in two years.

NU baptized the stadium winning the first game over Missouri Western 13-3 on March 11. In fact, the Huskers went on to win their first 12 games at home before losing to Fort Hayes State 5-4 on April 12. The Huskers finished their first season at home with an impressive 28-2 mark.

In 1980, the year began for NU with an even more beautiful facility. A total of 1,500 aluminum seats in the main grandstand were installed, the present seating capacity of the stadium, to make the facility more enjoyable for everyone. The Huskers enjoyed the friendly confines of beautiful Buck Beltzer going 29-1 losing only to Missouri on April 25. NU began the home season by winning its first 22 games.

The stadium's official dedication came on May 2, 1980 when former Major League pitcher Tim Burke led Nebraska to a 2-1 victory over Kansas in the first game of a doubleheader. NU went on to win game two, and the next day, Cliff Faust tossed a perfect game against the Jayhawks as the Huskers completed a four-game sweep by winning 3-0 and 10-8. Oklahoma handed NU its first loss at Buck Beltzer Stadium with a 5-2 win on April 4, 1981.

Also in 1981, a big donation by the Californians for Nebraskans Booster Club led to a new scoreboard.

The Huskers had continued success at home and even more facility improvements were made.

New Astro Turf was installed in 1983. And in 1984, the addition of the Baumann Baseball Building made this a complete place to have a successful baseball program.

During the 1989 season, lights were installed, thanks to another donation by the Californians for Nebraska. NU won the first-ever night game at Buck Beltzer Stadium beating Iowa State 3-2 in the second game of a doubleheader on May 12. That game also marked Coach John Sanders' 500th win for the Huskers. The lights were officially dedicated on May 5, 1990, almost 10 years after the official dedication of the stadium.

A state-of-the-art sound system was added in 1994 with the help of a donation by the Sower's Club. The artificial turf was upgraded for a third time before the 1997 season.

While all the improvements have been made, the Huskers have kept their winning ways at the Buck alive by averaging 23 wins a season to only six losses.

COACHES AND STAFF

Coach Dave Van Horn

New Coach Brings Wealth of Success to Nebraska

Dave Van Horn takes over the Nebraska baseball program this season looking to continue the success he has enjoyed on every level as a coach and as a player.

Van Horn, who was named as the Huskers' third baseball coach in 51 years on Jan. 8, has coached his teams to an average of 41 wins a season and has never won fewer than 35 games in a year in his nine seasons as a head coach. He comes to Lincoln after three successful seasons at Northwestern State (La.).

In announcing Van Horn's appointment, Nebraska Director of Athletics Bill Byrne was thrilled to have such a high-standing individual take over the program as the Huskers head into the 21st Century.

"When we started looking for a coach, of course we checked all around the United States, and consistently there was one man's name who kept coming up," Byrne said. "His name is Dave Van Horn. People talked about his ability to make sure that his athletes have a great experience. They talked about his competitiveness. They talked about the great fundamental traits that he instills and they talked about the fact that they consider him one of the rising superstars of college baseball."

Van Horn's success at other levels and programs has brought a newfound excitement and attitude surrounding the Husker baseball program. Although he was hired just 35 days before the scheduled season opener at Minnesota, Van Horn has helped mold NU into a team on the rise.

Wherever Van Horn has coached, his teams have had tremendous success.

At Northwestern State, Van Horn finished with a three-year record of 106-65 (.620 winning percentage). The Demons won the regular season Southland Conference title in 1995 and 1997 by winning a conference-record 19 games in league play in each year. For his efforts, Van Horn was named the Southland Conference's Coach of the Year two times in three years. In 1997, the Demons finished the year 35-23 before losing to Southwest Texas State in the conference tournament. NSU had defeated SWTSU three times in the regular season. Southwest Texas State went on to win two games in the NCAA regionals, including a win over Big 12 power Texas Tech.

In 1996, Van Horn led an inexperienced squad to a 34-27 record and a second-place finish. The season was highlighted by two wins over national champion Louisiana State. The Demons beat the now two-time defending College World Series champions, 10-5 and 6-5 in Baton Rouge.

His first season at the Division I school was a big-time success. The Demons were 37-15 as Van Horn earned Southland Coach of the Year honors. NSU was a preseason pick to finish fourth in the nine-team league, but won the conference crown.

Van Horn also stresses the academic side of the student-athlete. At Northwestern State, nearly 100 percent of the student-athletes who completed their eligibility earned an undergraduate degree. Currently, his five seniors at Northwestern State are on track to graduate.

Before moving to the Division I level in 1995, Van Horn had a stellar year at Division II Central Missouri State. He took the Mules' job in December and with six weeks until the season opener, his team was ready for the 1994 campaign. Central Missouri State started the season winning 12 of the first 13 games and the momentum built from there. CMSU eventually won 21 straight games at one point in 1994.

The Mules won the MIAA Conference title and won the Central Regional title by defeating Northern Colorado and South Dakota State (twice). Van Horn was named the Central Region Coach of the Year as CMSU advanced to the NCAA Division II Championship.

At Montgomery, Ala., the Mules were seeded second out of eight teams. Central Missouri State won the first two games before losing to Delta State in the double elimination tournament. The Mules bounced back with a 8-2 win over Delta State and won the championship beating Florida Southern 14-9.

CMSU ended the season with a 51-11 record, setting school records for wins (51) and winning percentage (.823). Van Horn was named the ABCA Division II National Coach of the Year.

For five seasons (1989-93), Van Horn was the head coach at Texarkana Community College. In 1989, the Bulldogs set a school record for wins with 39. The next three years the Bulldogs surpassed that total by winning 44, 45 and 48 games, respectively. In 1992, Texarkana finished 48-10 and was first in the NJCAA Texas Eastern Conference. In 1993, Texarkana finished with a 38-18 mark.

Before becoming a head coach, Van Horn was a key assistant in Arkansas' road to two appearances in the College World Series (1985 and 1987). The Razorbacks were 184-72 and made the NCAA Regional Tournament in each of the four seasons that Van Horn assisted Head Coach Norm DeBriyn.

On the diamond, Van Horn was a successful player as well. As an infielder, he was chosen in the 10th round of the 1982 draft by the Atlanta Braves. He spent three seasons in the Braves organization before his playing career ended in 1984.

At Arkansas, Van Horn was an All-Southwest Conference performer in 1982. He was the team's MVP and was selected as the SWC's Newcomer of the Year in his junior campaign.

He spent two successful seasons at McLennan Community College before heading to Fayetteville. In 1980, the Highlassies finished third at the NJCAA College World Series. Van Horn was an all-conference and all-region third baseman as a freshman. He also made the NJCAA All-Tournament team. In 1981, McLennan again advanced to the Junior College World Series and finished fourth. Van Horn was named a first-team All-American and was the Region 5 Player of the Year. He was drafted at the conclusion of his junior college career by the Chicago White Sox.

Van Horn has also worked and been in charge of coordinating dozens of camps since 1984. He led the winter and summer camps at Northwestern State the past four years. In 1992 and 1993 he helped at the University of Oklahoma summer camp. While at Texarkana, he was the school's athletic director and helped organize a baseball camp from 1989-92. While at Arkansas, he worked winter and summer camps in 1986 and 1987, and was part of the coaches' clinics from 1984-1986.

He is a member of the American Baseball Coaches Association and has been a member of the Louisville Slugger Advisory Staff since 1990. Louisville Slugger is now a sponsor of the Nebraska baseball program.

Van Horn and his wife Karen have two daughters, Hollan (4) and Mariel who was born on Dec. 3, 1997.

Dave Van Horn became Nebraska's third baseball coach in 51 years on Jan. 8.

Assistant Coaches

Mike Anderson

Mike Anderson begins his fourth season as a member of the Huskers' coaching staff in 1998. Anderson's main duties for this year include working with the hitters, outfielders and leading the academic efforts.

Anderson has been a great asset to the Nebraska baseball program since his arrival in 1994. He has been a successful hitting instructor, fielding coach and helped coordinate the team's academic and recruiting efforts the past three seasons.

He has coached six players who have signed professional baseball contracts, most notably, Darin Erstad, the No. 1 pick in the 1995 Major League Baseball Draft by the Anaheim Angels. The past three years, Anderson helped develop the sweet swing of Todd Sears, a third-round pick by the Colorado Rockies in 1997. Other professional players Anderson has helped groom include Jed Dalton, Mel Motley, Francis Collins and Matt Meyer.

In his supervision of the Huskers' academic efforts, the Huskers have placed 11 players on the first-team all-conference squad since 1994.

The first season following his arrival saw an improvement among the Husker hitters. In one season, NU raised its batting average to .323, a 65-point increase over 1994. The Huskers also belted 72 home runs, 21 more than the previous year and the most since 1990. Since the 1995 season, the Huskers have averaged 508 runs scored, 57 home runs, 133 doubles and had a batting average of .317 a season. In 1995 and 1997, NU had a school-record with 144 doubles, in each season.

Assisting the outfielders, Anderson has coached one All-American and two all-conference selections. Erstad earned first-team All-Big Eight and first-team All-America honors in 1995. Collins was a member of the first-team All-Big 12 squad last year.

Before arriving in Lincoln in the fall of 1994, he was the top assistant coach at the University of Northern Colorado in Greeley, Colo. He joined the Bears' staff after four years as a head coach with the UNC Lab School.

Besides his collegiate coaching experience, Anderson has worked as a camp instructor for Greg Riddoch's Major League Baseball School and Tom Runnells' Pro Clinics. Both Riddoch and Runnells managed in the major leagues. Anderson also spent two years as a scout for the Toronto Blue Jays.

From 1983 through 1986, Anderson was an outfielder at Northern Colorado, and following the conclusion of his college career, he was an eighth-round pick by the California Angels. He spent three seasons with the Angels.

Anderson earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from Northern Colorado.

He and his wife Kim have three children: Kaliegh (7), Taylor (5) and Madison (3).

The Anderson Family: Kaliegh, Kim, Taylor, Mike and Madison.

Rob Childress

The biggest recruit Dave Van Horn wanted to get when he arrived in Lincoln was his assistant coach from Northwestern State, Rob Childress. The day after Van Horn was chosen as the Huskers' coach, Childress decided to follow him to Nebraska and the Husker pitching staff couldn't be in better hands.

Childress, who coached with Van Horn for two seasons with the Demons and two seasons (1991-92) at Texarkana Community College, is the Huskers' pitching coach and recruiting coordinator.

Last season at NSU, Childress' staff had a 4.20 earned run average and allowed opponents to a .268 batting average. In 1996, the Demons' staff owned a 4.66 ERA and held opponents to a .259 batting average. He leaves behind a veteran-laden squad to take over an inexperienced Husker staff.

At Northwestern State, Childress handled the pitching coach duties, recruiting, field maintenance, fund raising, academic advisement and was the camp coordinator for the Demons.

Childress and Van Horn first teamed up at Texarkana. In 1991 and 1992, the Bulldogs were 93-22 as Childress guided the pitching staff. Texarkana won the league championship in 1991.

Following the two seasons as an assistant at Texarkana, Childress was an assistant coach at his alma mater, Northwood University. In 1994, he returned to Texarkana as the head coach and finished with an impressive 43-10 record and a No. 3 national ranking.

Before beginning his coaching career, Childress, who graduated from Harmony High School in Gilmer, Texas, attended Northwood University where he was twice named an all-conference pitcher. Northwood won two NAIA conference championships during his four years and was a runner-up at the regional tournament once. Childress was also elected the school's Academic Athlete of the Year as a sophomore and senior.

Childress earned a bachelor's of business administration degree from Northwood University and a master's of science degree from East Texas State.

Besides his collegiate coaching experience, Childress coached the Texarkana Mavericks in summer-league play in 1991. His team went 31-10 with Childress handling all travel, recruiting and field maintenance duties.

He and his wife Amanda have a daughter Hannah, who will celebrate her first birthday on April 14. He enjoys golfing and hunting.

Bill Byrne

Bill Byrne Director of Athletics

Now in his fifth year at Nebraska, Bill Byrne continues to lead and improve one of the nation's best athletic programs.

Byrne became Nebraska's 11th athletic director on June 26, 1992, replacing the legendary Bob Devaney. Byrne officially took the reins of the athletic program, Jan. 4, 1993.

He came to Nebraska following 10 very successful years at the University of Oregon. Highly respected among his peers, Byrne was elected vice president and the secretary-treasurer of the College Football Association. He has served on the NCAA Special Committee on Marketing and Licensing and currently serves on the Committee on Special Events. Byrne has worked tirelessly to establish a close relationship with the NU community and Husker fans. For five years, he has canvassed the state visiting with boosters to learn the needs of all Husker fans.

Among his many accomplishments at Nebraska, Byrne has been instrumental in upgrading Husker facilities, including the addition of two HuskerVision replay boards at Memorial Stadium in 1994. Besides becoming the first collegiate-owned venue to feature replay boards for its fans, Memorial Stadium was renovated to include a state-of-the-art training room, expanded coaches and players locker rooms, a new public address system, expanded restrooms and concession stands. In addition, section 14 was rebuilt in 1994 to offer increased seating for disabled fans.

The Michael Grace Production Studio in the West Stadium and new scoreboards at the NU Softball Complex, Buck Beltzer Stadium and the Bob Devaney Sports Center indoor track have been added.

Byrne's future plans ensure that Nebraska's facilities remain the best in the nation for Husker athletes and fans in their quest for championships. Byrne enlisted the Kansas City, Mo., firm of HOK Sport to develop a master facilities plan for the Nebraska athletic program. A new press box and skyboxes are part of the renovation plans for Memorial Stadium, along with waterproofing and concrete repair throughout the stadium. The Bob Devaney Sports Center will receive a new sound system, new weight room, new women's basketball locker room and a passenger elevator. Buck Beltzer Stadium received a new infield turf for the 1997 baseball season, and the NU Softball Complex added new dugouts. The computer center in the Boekel Academic Center also expanded to 40 terminals.

Byrne's leadership has kept the Huskers among the nation's elite. In fact, during the 1996-97 season, Nebraska:

- ◆ recorded its best finish ever in the Sears National Director's Cup standings, with a fourth-place finish.
- ◆ won six Big 12 championships (volleyball, soccer, women's swimming, women's gymnastics, men's and women's indoor track).
- ◆ finished in the top 10 nationally in seven sports (football, men's cross country, volleyball, soccer, women's gymnastics and women's indoor track).

In the fall of 1997, the Huskers have continued their successes. The Nebraska football team won the national championship finishing 13-0. The soccer team advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year and the Husker volleyball team, which finished second in the Big 12, made the Elite Eight of the NCAA volleyball tournament.

With the leadership of Byrne, Nebraska became the first Big Eight school to add women's soccer as a varsity sport in 1994, and gave Nebraska a Big 12-leading 22-sport offering. Byrne also led the first Nebraska team fund-raising campaign, which increased donations by more than half a million dollars.

In addition to maintaining the highest standard of excellence on the playing field, Byrne has successfully reorganized the department for the 21st century. Stressing more efficient use of resources, Byrne has created a one-stop shopping type of organization to promptly meet the needs of student-athletes, fans and contributors.

Byrne is recognized as a national leader in intercollegiate athletics and continues to make an aggressive effort, with other Big 12 athletic directors, to place conference officials on key NCAA committees to better represent the views of Big 12 institutions. He has been instrumental in the development of the Big 12 Conference and had an active voice in its planning.

In conjunction with the rest of the NU administration, Byrne has arranged to use the Husker football and basketball networks to promote causes and concerns important to the entire university community, including the institution's increased role in research.

Before bringing his expertise in the athletic world to Nebraska, Byrne served as the athletic director at Oregon. He assumed the duties of Oregon director of athletics in May of 1984 as one of the youngest directors in Division I. Byrne established fund-raising offices in Portland and southern Oregon and established a full-time marketing and promotions operation, which blossomed to encompass the Oregon Sports Network for statewide in-house production of Duck games on radio and television.

Byrne led $19 million in renovations at Oregon, which resulted in new homes for the Ducks' football and athletic department offices. In 1991, He was responsible for the construction of a new press box, sky suites and total renovation of Autzen Stadium. Two years later, the facility's Hall of Champions was dedicated in Byrne's honor.

Byrne has served as president of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 1991-92, and is in his fifth year on the executive committee. He was also chairman of the Pac-10 Conference executive committee and was named national fund-raiser-of-the-year by the National Athletic Fundraisers.

Byrne was born in Boston but grew up in Idaho and attended Idaho State University. Byrne was the student body president and received bachelor's and master's degrees in business from Idaho State in 1967 and 1971. Before going to Oregon in 1982, he was assistant athletic director at San Diego State (1980-82), executive director of the New Mexico Lobo Club (1976-79) and director of alumni relations at Idaho State (1971-76).

Byrne's wife, Marilyn, is the Dean of Graduate Studies in Education at Doane College and earned her Ph.D. in Higher Education Administration from NU. The Byrnes have two sons and a 2-year-old grandson, Nicholas. Nicholas' parents, Greg and Regina, live in Portland, Ore., where Greg is an athletic fund-raiser for the University of Oregon. Their son Bill works as an account manager for Visa in its world-wide computer center located in San Mateo, Calif.

Al Papik
University of Nebraska
Senior Associate Athletic Director for Compliance
(25th Year)

Al Papik, former director of admissions and advising for the University of Nebraska and a noted authority on NCAA rules and regulations, is the No. 2 athletic department administrator.

He is entering his 25th year of service to the University of Nebraska and 13th year of service to the athletic department.

In addition to overseeing 18 of Nebraska's Olympic sports and the athletic medicine program, Papik's responsibilities include NCAA rules interpretation, certification and administration of the student-athlete academic support unit.

Papik was asked to assume additional responsibilities in football operations in December 1996. Papik's specific areas of responsibility in football include formulating the budget, scheduling, equipment, postseason competition, compliance and special events and projects in football.

Papik joined the University of Nebraska administrative staff as the director of admissions in 1973. He spent 12 years as the director of admissions before becoming the assistant athletic director for student services in 1985. Papik's first task with the athletic program was to unify the student support systems for the men's and women's athletic programs. Papik also became Nebraska's first compliance coordinator in 1986.

Before coming to Lincoln, Papik spent 18 very successful years at Doane College in Crete, Neb. He is beginning his fifth year as the senior associate athletic director and will continue to serve as Nebraska's compliance coordinator.

In 1995, Papik was inducted into the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame for the second time, receiving the Lyell Bremser Special Merit Award for his contribution to football. In January 1996, he was selected as an original inductee into the Doane College Hall of Fame.

From 1955 to 1972, Papik was a successful football coach and athletic director at Doane College. During his tenure at Doane, Papik's football teams went undefeated for an unbelievable 38 consecutive games. Papik's success on the football field earned him Nebraska college coach-of-the-year honors three times. He was also the NAIA district coach-of-the-year four consecutive seasons. For his extraordinary career achievements as a coach, Papik was selected to the Nebraska Football Hall of Fame in 1980.

But Papik's contributions to athletics have gone beyond the football field. He received a Special Merit Award from the Nebraska Basketball Hall of Fame in February 1996 for his contributions to the sport. Papik was inducted into the Nebraska Track and Field Officials Hall of Fame in 1993. He was also honored for his excellent administrative skills, earning the University of Nebraska's Donaldson Award.

A graduate of Doane College, Papik received his master of education degree from the University of Nebraska. He was a coach and teacher at Crete and Laurel high schools before joining the Doane staff. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II.

He is married to the former Gloria Jacobsen of Sioux City, Iowa, and they have two children, Jim and Marcia, and five grandchildren.

THE 1998 HUSKERS

1998 Outlook

Huskers Enter Dave Van Horn Era With Optimism

With the arrival of Dave Van Horn, a new era in Husker baseball has taken flight. Van Horn, who became the Huskers' third baseball coach in 51 years on Jan. 8, has had little time to prepare his team for a regular-season schedule that features 30 games in the Big 12 Conference and 33 games scheduled away from Buck Beltzer Stadium.

NU enters the season with some inexperience. Only one member of the outfield returns from last season -- part-timer Erik Mumm. On the mound, Kenny Duebelbeis is the only pitcher returning who owns a wealth of starting experience. The loss of All-Big 12 picks first baseman Todd Sears and outfielder Francis Collins leaves a hole in the Husker lineup as well.

But this is an exciting time for Nebraska baseball. The cupboard of players Van Horn, who left an experienced team at Northwestern (La.) State, has inherited at Nebraska, is not bare. Starting infielders Clifton Durham, Kevin Harrington and Bryan Schmidt all return. Last season, Durham, Schmidt and Harrington combined to start 154 games for the Huskers. In conference play, those three played 89 of the 90 league games with Harrington missing the lone game.

The power Ken Harvey showed in the final weeks of the season should be more developed for his sophomore season. Harvey and junior college transfer Jeff Hedman should both spend time at first base in 1998.

On the mound, Jarod Bearer and Brian Zubor, who combined for 41 appearances in 1997, return. Jay Sirianni, Chad Wiles, Seth Williams, Pete Lythgoe, Tevis Arnold and Matt Drevo all saw some time on the mound for the Huskers last year.

With the excitement Van Horn has brought to the Husker program, Nebraska could be poised to surprise some people in the 1998 campaign. Van Horn compiled a 106-65 record the past three seasons at NSU as his teams won two Southland Conference titles in those three years.

"We've got a tough road ahead of us," Van Horn said. "We have guys who need to have great seasons if we hope to achieve a berth in the conference tournament."

On the Mound

The addition of pitching coach Rob Childress, who followed Van Horn from Northwestern State, will be a major benefit for the Huskers' pitching staff. Childress has had success in developing inexperienced staffs. At Northwestern State, Childress got the most out of his pitchers. In 1996, the Demons returned only five pitchers and the team finished with a 4.66 earned run average and held opponents to a batting average of .259. Last year, a Childress-molded staff had a 4.20 ERA and held opponents to a .268 average.

The Huskers have struggled the past two seasons with ERAs of 6.68 and 6.90. Last year's pitching staff allowed the most hits and most earned runs in school history.

Duebelbeis, a left hander who began the 1997 season in the bullpen, started nine games after March 20 should figure into the Huskers' starting rotation. Bearer started four games for NU in 1997 and made 18 appearances. Zubor, a senior, pitched in 23 games and once again will be called upon as a reliever. Sirianni, Wiles, Drevo, Williams and Arnold saw limited time on the mound last season. Lythgoe pitched in two games before missing the season after suffering an injury in a car accident. Lythgoe had a 1.50 earned run average in two starts before his injury.

"This is an inexperienced, but blue collar staff," Childress said. "We have to improve quite a bit in the first part of the season, but we are lucky we do have some senior leadership here."

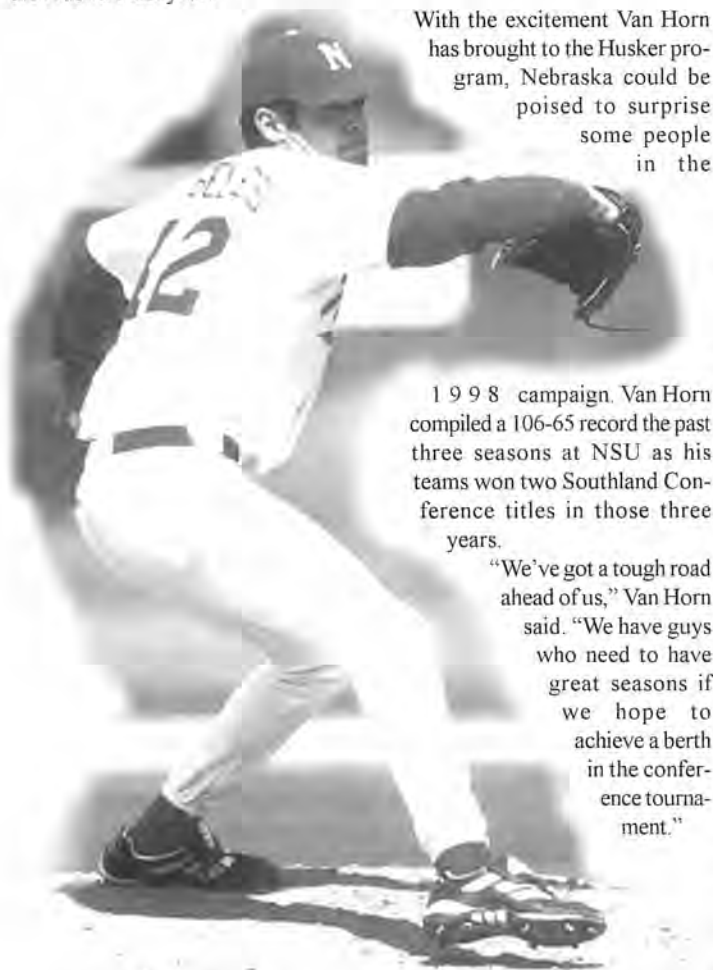

The additions of senior transfers Brian Downing and Matt Schudt will add depth to the staff. Both players should get a chance to prove themselves in the starting rotation or in long relief. Downing played for Cal-State Northridge last season and appeared in nine games for the Matadors. In his final 9.1 innings of work he allowed just two runs against Rhode Island, New Mexico and Cal-Poly Pomona. Schudt pitched in the Big 12 Conference for Baylor last season, appearing in seven games.

Two junior college transfers will see some time as well in the 1998 season. Tim DeHart was a second-team all-conference pick at Canada College last year and Matt Tomlin, a side-arm thrower, posted impressive numbers at Scottsdale Community College. Tomlin finished with 13 saves and had a 1.31 ERA for the Artichokes. The NU staff had only four saves in 1997.

Four freshmen complete the Husker staff. Khasim Baig and Jeff Blaesing are two first-year players from Illinois. Gregg Jones and Lincoln native Brian Rodaway have the potential to make an impact at some point in their Husker careers. Rodaway showed a powerful arm in the fall striking out 16 batters in 10 innings during the Red-White World Series.

The Husker staff features great versatility. Of the 17 pitchers on the roster five are left handers and 12 are righties.

"With five left-handed pitchers it will allow us to make some moves and have solid matchups in certain situations against teams," Childress said.

The Infielders

One area that Van Horn emphasizes is defense and with the experience this year's infield possesses he should be pleased.

Harrington, Schmidt and Durham all return after playing together last season. The three helped turn an impressive 55 double plays, 23 more than in 1996. At shortstop, Schmidt set a school record with 181 assists. At second, Harrington committed only five errors and had a fielding percentage of .979. Durham, who played second base his first two years at NU, moved to third and was a major contributor in shoring up the Huskers' fielding.

"Defensively in the infield with our seniors up the middle and Cliffon Durham at third base that should add some stability to our situation," Van Horn said. "We will remain solid as long as we don't have any injuries."

At the plate, Harrington hit eight home runs and has added some power in the offseason. Schmidt had 10 doubles and finished with a batting average of .285. Durham used his fleet feet to score 60 runs and have a team-best five triples.

Harvey and junior college transfer Hedman have big shoes to replace with the loss of All-Big 12 first baseman Todd Sears. Harvey had an impressive freshman campaign finishing with a .388 average and a .641 slugging percentage primarily as a designated hitter. He moved to first in the fall in an effort to try and get his bat in the lineup more.

"Ken Harvey has adapted well to the position," Van Horn said. "To pair him up at first with the left-handed Hedman will be a benefit."

Hedman had a powerful bat at Dixie College where he earned third-team junior college All-America honors. He can also play the outfield allowing the coaches to find a spot for him in the lineup.

Craig Moore, a do-it-all player for the Huskers, will get a chance to play at third or as a designated hitter in 1998. Moore, who hit an impressive .336 last season, offers an explosive left-handed bat that will get him some time in the Huskers' lineup. Brian Hunt started 14 games a year ago and will back up Harrington at second.

Freshman Daniel Kimura, who played third base in high school, will see some time in the infield and the outfield. Kimura, the 1996 Hawaii High School Player of the Year, should bat in the heart of the Huskers' lineup whether he is in the infield or the outfield.

The Outfielders

An area that saw almost continuous changes in the 1997 season should change even more in 1998.

Mumm is the only returner to the outfield from last season's squad. Mumm appeared in 34 games and started 16 contests for NU in 1997.

Newcomer Donny Starkins will be forced to see time in center field with the lack of depth. Starkins, a star at Scottsdale Community College the past two seasons, will be the leader of an inexperienced outfield. He was a first-team all-conference and a first-team all-region pick in 1997. Starkins had 97 hits, 68 RBI, 12 home runs and hit .401 playing in the outfield for the Artichokes.

Hedman and Kimura, both experienced infielders, will see extensive time in the outfield this season. Each player will see time in left field and right.

NAIA Division II transfer Scott Larsen will add depth as a centerfielder. One of two switch-hitters on the team, Larsen hit .368 at Oklahoma Baptist last season. Junior college transfer Justin Valasek will see playing time as well. At Hutchinson (Kan.) Community College, Valasek set school single-season records for at bats, 197, runs scored, 73, doubles, 15 and triples with five.

The Catchers

A one-man workhorse in 1997, Andy Sawyers will get some help this year. Juco transfer Brian Johnson and Sawyers will share the catching duties in 1998.

Sawyers, who played in 59 of 62 games last season, behind the plate, hit .268 last season with 55 hits in 205 at bats.

This year, Johnson, a transfer from Cloud (Kan.) County Community College, will push Sawyers for playing time. The addition of Johnson will no doubt help the Huskers to keep the two players from getting worn down. Johnson hit .353 with 39 RBI, 15 doubles, five home runs and a .583 slugging percentage for the Thunderbirds.

The Roundup

This will be a challenging and interesting season for the Nebraska baseball program. With the additions of Van Horn and Childress joining assistant Mike Anderson on the coaching staff, the three have hopes for a successful season and start the Van Horn era off in the right direction.

The players have worked hard trying to erase the memory of last year's 27-35 finish. Using that as motivation, the offseason workouts have been tough as the Huskers look to rebound from a disappointing 1997 season.

The schedule will be demanding. The Huskers travel more than 10,000 miles to 10 different destinations in 1998. NU could play its fewest number of home games ever with only 23 on the slate. The Big 12 Conference, a league that has five teams ranked in the preseason polls, will be unforgiving.

But this year will be one in which the Huskers can start Van Horn's Husker career off on a good note.

THE PLAYERS

Returning Husker Player Bios

Tevis Arnold

Pitcher, 6-0, 170, Sr., R-R
Topeka, Kan.
(Highland College)

Tevis Arnold has the experience to help solidify the Huskers' pitching depth. Arnold is one of five senior pitchers on the staff and has proven to be successful in a reliever's role. He had the most appearances of any Husker pitcher in the fall -- six in nine games of the Red-White World Series.

1997 Season: Arnold made 11 appearances for the Huskers and lost his only decision of the year (0-1). He pitched nine innings allowing 12 hits, 10 earned runs and striking out 10. He lost his decision to Baylor in NU's 7-6 11-inning loss. His longest outing of the year was the 1.2-inning performance against the Bears. He pitched at least one inning in six of his 11 appearances. Arnold had a 3.2-inning shutout streak from March 1 through March 5. He had two solid performances, no runs and three strikeouts in 1.1 innings against College World Series participant UCLA and allowed no runs against Washington at the Hormel Foods Classic in Minneapolis, Minn.

At Highland College: Arnold compiled a 9-5 record with a 3.80 earned-run average for head coach Rick Eberly. He was a workhorse, starting 13 games, completing six, and working 85.1 innings. He walked less than two batters per nine innings. He also picked up a save and allowed only two home runs in those 85-plus innings of work.

At Highland Park High School: Arnold was all-city and all-conference at HPHS in Topeka, Kan. He was his team's captain in baseball, football and basketball, and earned team most valuable player honors as a senior.

Matthew Drevo

#44

Pitcher, 6-9, 225, So., R-R
Lincoln, Neb. (Christian)

◆ 1997 Honorable-Mention Academic All-Big 12

A tall right-hander, Matthew Drevo should use the experience he gained last season as a major benefit in 1998. Drevo, one of two pitchers on the returning staff from Lincoln, appeared in six games in 1997. At 6-foot-9, he can use his size as a menacing force on the mound.

1997 Season: Drevo, a two-sport high school star appeared in six games for the Huskers. He pitched a total of seven innings and allowed six earned runs. He pitched two scoreless innings against South Dakota in his longest outing of the season. Of his six appearances, Drevo did not allow a run in four of those outings. He had a strikeout against Northern Iowa and Minnesota. His only Big 12 Conference appearance came on March 8 against Baylor where he pitched one inning allowing five runs. He was one of two Huskers, Craig Moore was the other, to earn academic All-Big 12 Conference honorable-mention honors.

He recorded 132 strikeouts as a senior to go with a 2.20 earned-run average and batted .450. He was named to the academic all-state team both his junior and senior seasons. Kenny Duebelbeis

#41

Pitcher, 6-3, 185, Sr., R-L
Los Gatos, Calif.
(Canada College)

With the third most starts on the team in 1997, Kenny Duebelbeis (pronounced DO-bull-bise) should see even more time on the mound this year. The left-hander started nine games for NU in 1997 finishing with a 3-5 record. He has a good shot at being the ace of a young pitching staff.

1997 Season: Duebelbeis was a bright spot on the pitching staff. He made 13 appearances for the Huskers, including nine starts - third most on the team. He finished with a 7.39 ERA, but opponents hit just .273 against him. He picked up wins over Kansas State, Missouri and South Dakota State. He carried a no-hitter into the seventh against the Wildcats. He lost his first game before winning three straight decisions. He tossed a complete game shutout against South Dakota State as NU won 3-0. He struck out six in that contest allowing only three hits. In his next outing, he threw seven innings of four-hit ball against KSU. In 56 innings, he allowed 46 runs and finished the year with 39 strikeouts. At one point, he pitched 15 consecutive scoreless innings. His first four appearances for the Huskers came in relief duty. He didn't make his first start until March 8. Cliffton Durham

Infield, 5-7, 145, Sr., R-R
St. Louis, Mo.
(Parkway North)

A move from his normal middle infield position to third base was not a problem for Cliffton Durham last season. He is a steady fielding third baseman, and has solidified the Huskers' need for a veteran player at that position. He can play second and shortstop as well. This year, NU will rely more on his speed that produced five triples and eight stolen bases a year ago. One of Nebraska's two switch-hitters, he possess good speed and has an excellent eye at the plate making him a huge on-base asset. Durham is the team captain, so he will need to provide leadership as well for an inexperienced team.

1997 Season: In his first extensive playing time, Durham's performance was a major highlight for NU. He started 54 games of the 62-game regular season, batting .281 with 61 hits and 60 runs scored. His only home run of the year came in NU's 3-0 win against South Dakota State. He started 29 of the Huskers' 30 Big 12 Conference games. Durham ripped two doubles in NU's 17-3 win over Iowa State in May. He had 17 multiple-hit games and collected three hits in a contest on six occasions. Durham scored five runs against South Dakota and crossed the plate four times against Nebraska-Omaha. He finished the year with a team-high five triples and had seven doubles. His 60 runs scored placed him third on the team behind Todd Sears and Francis Collins. He had a career-high seven at-bats in the first game of a doubleheader against South Dakota. He had six multi-RBI games and 14 multi-runs scored games.

1996 Season: Durham appeared in 15 games, mostly at second base, but also played short and was used as a pinch-runner. He hit .250, scored four runs in just 12 at bats and drew one walk.

1995 Season: Durham served mainly as a backup shortstop to Darin Petersen. He played in 21 games making six starts. He had a double and two runs batted in. He scored five runs and also stole a pair of bases.

Kevin Harrington

Infield, 5-11, 175, Sr., R-R
Half Moon Bay, Calif.
(Canada College)

Another key part of the Nebraska infield returns with Kevin Harrington. A starter of 41 games in 1997, the veteran should see more playing time this year. Harrington is an excellent defensive player. He played mostly second base, but also saw time at shortstop and third base. He is NU's top returning home run hitter. The season before he arrived, NU turned only 32 double plays, but with his skills, that increased to a school-record 55 double plays in 1997.

1997 Season: Adapting from junior college baseball wasn't a problem for Harrington. In 53 games, Harrington had 65 hits in 226 at bats for an average of .288. His 65 hits placed him third on the team and so did his eight home runs. Of those 65 hits, 24 were extra-base hits, including 15 doubles. He also had 55 RBI, the most among any returning Husker hitter. In the field, he finished with a .979 fielding percentage making just five errors in 235 chances. He was a main part of an infield that helped turn a school-record 55 double plays. He hit two grand slams on the same day against Peru State on April 16 and finished the doubleheader with nine RBI. Against the Bobcats he raised his average 14 points in the two games after going five for nine. Harrington homered in three straight games -- two against Peru State and one at Oklahoma. He had 15 multiple-hit games, 10 multi-runs-scored games and 13 multi-RBI contests. In the home finale against Texas, Harrington had four hits, five RBI, a double and three runs scored. He had six at-bats in three games. He had a team-season-high eight assists against Baylor.

Ken Harvey #32

First baseman/DH
6-2, 230, So., R-R
Los Angeles, Calif.
(Beverly Hills)

A huge asset, Ken Harvey is one player who has a very bright future at Nebraska. A powerful contact hitter, he played in more than half of NU's games as a freshman in 1997, and should see time again as Nebraska's designated hitter. The sophomore from Los Angeles will be used as the DH or at first base. He belted four home runs in nine games during the Red-White World Series.

1997 Season: Harvey showed he had the talent to play right away when he went 2-for-4 in his second game for the Huskers. Harvey ripped two doubles against Nebraska-Kearney driving in three runs in the first game of a double-header. He tore apart Big 12 Conference pitching, hitting .481 in league play. With 26 hits in 54 at bats, he had the best average in conference play by more than 75 points. Two of his five home runs came in conference play as he hit six doubles and scored 14 runs with 13 RBI's. In the final 10 games of the season, Harvey had a hit in each contest while hitting .470 (23 for 49). In those games he had six multi-hit games, 16 RBI and 13 runs scored. He also enters the year having had multiple-hit games in his last four outings, and is 12 for 19 in those games. He finished the year with a .388 average, a record for a Husker freshman. He finished the year with an impressive .641 slugging percentage and a .442 on-base percentage. His slugging percentage was also a school best for a freshman. Andrew Sawyers

Catcher, 6-3, 215, Jr., R-R
Willits, Calif.

Bryan Schmidt

#14

Shortstop, 6-2, 170, Jr., R-R
Sacramento, Calif.
(Mendocino College)

Bryan Schmidt helped to shore up the NU middle infield last season and should do the same in 1998. With his soft hands and long range Schmidt should team up with Harrington again as a deadly double-play combination. Schmidt had a team-high 18 errors last season, but he also faced the most chances on the team. He and Kevin Harrington turned 55 double plays, a school record. He showed good signs at the plate and his hitting should be closer to his quality fielding ability.

1997 Season: Schmidt set a school-record with 185 assists last season. He played in 61 of 62 games while starting 59. A solid fielding shortstop, he helped the Huskers turn a school-record 55 double plays, and 23 more than the previous season. With his bat, he finished the year hitting at a .285 clip overall and .283 in the Big 12. He was one of four Huskers to start all 30 league contests. He had the second-most assists on the team (93) ranking him only behind Harrington. He drew 34 walks, tied for the second most on the team. He had a career-best three RBI against Nebraska-Omaha. He had three hits in four contests and had 15 multi-hit games all together. He scored a career-high three runs against Hastings College. Schmidt had home runs against Oklahoma and Nebraska-Omaha. Serious time. You should know the history of baseball. (There will be a quiz later). In 1865, Ed Culbert stole the first base in history. (He was later arrested). In 1869, the Cincinnati Red Stockings introduced knee-length pants. In 1876 the bat was limited to 42 inches. In 1891 the substitute rule was changed to allow a player to enter any time after he announced to the umpire the intent to change. This rule came about when a player, sitting on the bench, could see a foul ball was not going to be caught, announced his entry into the game and caught the ball. 1900 a five-sided plate was introduced. In 1996 Barry's opened another Barry's in Scottsbluff. (Not a baseball rule, but interesting.)

Notes on Nebraska's Non-conference foes

- ◆ Nebraska owns a 78-68-3 all-time record against the 14 non-conference opponents it faces in 1998.
- ◆ The Huskers will play five teams for the first time in the 1998 season -- Chicago State, Cal Poly SLO, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Cincinnati and Eastern Kentucky.
- ◆ Of the 26-game non-conference schedule, only five will be played at home and 21 games will be played away from Buck Beltzer. Seven of those games come in the Rainbow Easter Classic in Honolulu, Hawaii.
- ◆ Against the seven non-conference opponents NU faces, the Huskers have a series edge against five of those teams. Only Hawaii and Minnesota have series leads against the Huskers.
- ◆ Only one non-Division I team is on the schedule in 1998, but that is NAIA-powerhouse Lewis-Clark State. In 1999, the Warriors make the jump to Division I ball after having many successful years in the NAIA.
- ◆ Nebraska's 13 non-conference opponents compiled a 326-383-1 record in 1997.
- ◆ Lewis-Clark State won the most games of any non-conference school Nebraska will face this season (43) and also lost the least (10). Cincinnati, won the fewest (12) games and lost the most with 46.

The Big 12 Conference

Steve Hatchell
Big 12 Conference
Commissioner

Dedicated to achieving the highest goals in the integration of academic and athletic endeavors, Baylor, Colorado, Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Oklahoma State, Texas, Texas A&M and Texas Tech joined forces Feb. 25, 1994, to forge the Big 12 Conference.

Member schools have long been respected for success in classrooms and stadiums. League schools have been honored for the quality of academic resources, programs and services offered to students. Athletically, Big 12 teams have claimed more than 130 NCAA team championships, 15 wire service football titles, and more than 750 NCAA individual crowns.

School chief executive officers formed the Big 12 to combine resources and reach higher goals in the 21st Century. Institution chancellors and presidents serve as the chief policy makers of the conference, operating as the Board of Directors. Administration of the league occurs through the Council of Faculty Athletics Representatives, Board of Athletics Directors and Board of Senior Woman Administrators.

Steven J. Hatchell became the conference's first commissioner on March 26, 1995. Under his direction, the Big 12 took a bold step for community service in May 1996, by adopting Special Olympics as its main philanthropy. Big 12 institutions have provided facilities for local, regional and national Special Olympics competition for years. Now, under the Big 12 blanket, Special Olympians, their coaches and fans have the opportunity to interact at clinics and other efforts in conjunction with Big 12 events. In August 1996, executive directors of Special Olympics in the seven-state area and Big 12 officials began promoting Special Olympics through public service announcements aired to all 48 contiguous states during Big 12 football and basketball games and the weekly "Big 12 Showcase."

Another innovative venture of the Big 12 is the development of the Life Skills Program and Academic Services, which seeks to enhance the "total person" on and off the field. The Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Special Olympics and the NCAA's YES program of clinics and stay-in-school messages to youngsters are a few of the life skills areas promoted by the Big 12. Student-athletes play an active role in community endeavors such as hospital visits, youth school programs, enhance/eligibility information and anti-violence campaigns promoted through public service messages aired during Big 12 events. The activities have helped the Big 12 raise standards of excellence throughout the NCAA.

Exposure is key in any endeavor, and the Big 12 has one of the most comprehensive regional and national telecast agreements in the country. ABC and Fox Sports Net combine to produce nearly 40 football games annually in syndicated, regional, national and prime time windows. The Big 12 dominates network television on the Friday after Thanksgiving with back-to-back national telecasts of Texas vs. Texas A&M and Colorado vs. Nebraska. ESPN and ESPN+Plus provide regional syndication, national cable and national network coverage of up to 90 men's basketball games. The Big 12 is a mainstay in the ESPN lineup with the highest rated college basketball slot on "Big Monday." Along with the syndicated package, ESPN+Plus markets 10 games annually to CBS and ABC for the Big 12. All 11 games of the Big 12 Phillips 66 Men's Basketball Tournament are aired regionally or nationally.

Big 12 television coverage doesn't stop with football and men's basketball. Fox Sports Net relies on Big 12 supplied programming of regular-season volleyball, baseball and women's basketball, televising nearly 30 events. Big 12 championships also have a home at Fox Sports Net. In 1996, Fox Sports Net carried all the action from the title game of the Big 12 Women's Soccer Tournament, when Nebraska defeated Texas A&M 1-0 in overtime. No fewer than eight Big 12 championships are televised on regional or national cable, and Fox Sports Net boasts one of the finest weekly collegiate programs in the "Big 12 Showcase."

ESPN promotes and televises the Big 12 women's basketball challenge and will air the 1998 Phillips 66 Men's Basketball Tournament title game. The packages with ABC, Fox Sports Net and ESPN guarantee the Big 12 the finest intercollegiate coverage through 2000 (2003 with ABC for football television) and at least $145 million to member institutions.

The Big 12 took the field in the spring of 1996 as Oklahoma claimed the first conference championship in softball on May 11, 1996.

Big 12 football kicked off on Aug. 31, 1996, as Kansas State defeated Texas Tech 21-14 in Manhattan, Kan. The Big 12 uses a North-South divisional format in football, with the two Oklahoma schools and the four Texas schools forming the Big 12 South, while Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Kansas State, Missouri and Iowa State create the Big 12 North. The champions of each division battle in an electric showdown in early December to determine the Big 12 representative to the Bowl Alliance.

Four Big 12 schools, Iowa State, Missouri, Nebraska, and Oklahoma, compete in women's gymnastics. The 1998 Championships will take place at the Bob Devaney Sports Center in Lincoln, Neb., on March 21, 1998. The Huskers, who won a league-best 12 Big Eight titles, captured the inaugural Big 12 trophy in 1997.

After a very successful first campaign for the Big 12 Conference, the 21 regular-season championship trophies were divided among seven schools, with Texas taking seven (football, men's and women's outdoor track, men's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, women's golf), the most of all conference members. Nebraska claimed six trophies (gymnastics, men's and women's indoor track, soccer, women's swimming and diving and volleyball), while Colorado (men's and women's cross country), Kansas (men's and women's basketball) and Oklahoma State (men's golf and wrestling) captured two trophies. Oklahoma (softball) and Texas Tech (baseball) also took home Big 12 trophies.

The Big 12 is home to 209 teams in 21 men's and women's sports. Big 12 programs include baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, football, men's and women's golf, women's gymnastics, men's and women's indoor and outdoor track, softball, women's soccer, men's and women's swimming and diving, men's and women's tennis, women's volleyball and wrestling.

1997 IN REVIEW

1997 in Review

Although the record of the 1997 Nebraska baseball team might not indicate it, the year was one in which four Huskers - Todd Sears, Francis Collins, Steve Fish and Patrick Driscoll - turned in outstanding individual performances and a group of younger players gained valuable experience to make the future of the NU baseball program a bright one.

Sears, who was picked in the third round of the Major League Baseball Amateur Draft by the Colorado Rockies, was a first-team All-Big 12 selection. Sears finished the 1997 season with a .421 batting average, the sixth highest in NU history and his career average of .402 places him second on the all-time chart. His .421 mark in 1997 ranked 26th among NCAA hitters.

He was joined on the All-Big 12 first team by outfielder Collins, who signed as a free agent with the Philadelphia Phillies. Collins set season school records with 284 at bats and 109 hits last year.

Driscoll, a 22nd-round draft pick by the Phillies, finished the season with a 3-8 record, but started a team-high 14 games. He threw two complete games, second best on the team, and 90.1 innings, also second most by a Husker pitcher.

Fish finished the year with an impressive 9-6 mark and a 5.58 earned-run average. He was an honorable-mention All-Big 12 pick and finished with eight complete games, the second most in a season in school history, and was the team leader in wins (9), starts (tie with 14), third best in appearances (19), and tops in innings pitched (108).

But those weren't the only players to show their talent last season. Freshman Ken Harvey, juniors Kevin Harrington, Bryan Schmidt and Clifton Durham all showed signs that good things lie ahead.

Harvey, who started opening day against Wayne State on Feb. 1 and against Kearney State on Feb. 20, struggled to start the year. Then against Hastings College on April 15, he went 4-for-5 with 6 RBI and two runs scored. Against the Broncos he homered for the first time and would finish the season with five home runs and a .388 batting average - second best on the team. In Big 12 games, Harvey led the team hitting at a .481 mark while playing in only 16 games -- 11 of which were starts.

Harrington started 41 games, including 29 of 30 conference contests, for the Huskers last spring, and finished with eight home runs, second best on the squad, and 55 RBI, third best. Schmidt, who started 59 of 62 games for NU, hit .285 with 59 hits and had 27 RBI. He also picked up 34 walks, tying him with Durham for second on the team. Schmidt was solid in the field making 185 assists, the most in school history.

In seeing his first significant playing time since coming to NU, Durham was a mainstay at third base and started 54 games. Using his speed, he had a team-best five triples and had eight stolen bases, ranking behind Collins' 13. Together Sears, Schmidt, Harrington and Durham helped turn a school-best 55 double plays.

Michael Knust, catcher Andrew Sawyers and Craig Moore also played a great deal for the Huskers. Sawyers caught 59 games for NU and Moore hit .336, which ranked fourth on the team. Knust started 32 games hitting .271.

When Nebraska and Colorado finally ended the 22-inning marathon on April 26, 1974, everyone knew that it had been one long day at the ballpark and much later, it was discovered that this game was in fact the longest game played in NCAA history. In addition, national records for at bats by individuals (10 by Jim Smith, Nebraska and Jay Sferri, Colorado) and by a team (CU's 78) were set along with total at bats (155) and CU plate appearances (88) and total plate appearances (185). All of the records set that day are still current among NCAA Division I schools. Nebraska struck out a total of 23 times (only one short of the record) and missed its best chance to win in the 20th inning when right fielder Norm Glissman led off with a triple. After a strikeout and an intentional walk, second baseman Ken Bauder missed the squeeze bunt sign and Glissman was cut down at the plate. After CU scored in the top of the 22nd, Buffalo pitcher Bob Kelly struck out the side to end the nearly five-hour endurance test. Randy Benish was the losing pitcher for Nebraska.

After plowing his way through Kansas' first 20 batters, (and having only four hit the ball out of the infield) senior pitcher Cliff Faust must have thought he was seeing his perfect game slice away. The Jayhawks' Dick Lewallen came to the plate with two outs in the seventh (and final inning) and promptly hit a sinking line drive into left field. But All-Big Eight left fielder Joe Scherger made a diving grab to save Faust's perfect game. Outside of Lewallen's game-ender, no other Jayhawk made a serious bid to reach base. Faust wound up his final season by being named All-Big Eight while earning the No. 2 spot in NU's career records for ERA (2.52). Faust's perfect game came the day after Buck Beltzer Stadium was officially dedicated.

NORMAN, Okla. -- Freshman Anthony Kelley made his first conference victory of his first season a memorable one, as he tossed a no-hitter against the Oklahoma Sooners. Kelley's gem couldn't have come at a better time, since NU had already split the first two games of the series. Kelley was never in any serious trouble as he struck out seven, while walking just three. First baseman Steve Stanicek provided the offensive punch, slugging a two-run homer in the fifth.

Husker Baseball Facilities

The Baumann Baseball Building

Dedicated in the spring of 1984, the Baumann Baseball Building is located adjacent to Buck Beltzer Stadium and enables the Husker coaching staff to conduct business their daily business all on one location.

Named for the late Otto and Gladys Baumann, long-time Husker baseball boosters who made the building possible, the building houses all of the offices for the Husker baseball staff, in addition to a locker room, completely refurbished in 1991. It includes a training room, laundry facilities, and a video viewing room.

The Baumann Baseball Building

The Huskers call the Otto and Gladys Baumann Building home to their own offices, conference room and club house/locker room.

The Nebraska Baseball Stadium is named For O.A. "Buck" Beltzer.

Stadium Named For "Buck" Beltzer

Nebraska's baseball complex is named after O.A. "Buck" Beltzer, the late, well-known Husker athlete and Grand Island businessman.

Beltzer, born in Stratton, Neb., in 1888, earned the nickname "Buck" as a prepster at Arapahoe, Neb. Following his high school career, Beltzer went to Nebraska for three years of athletic stardom. He lettered in football and baseball in 1907-08-09 and is the only NU athlete to have captained both the football and baseball teams the same year, as he did in 1909.

Beltzer's name is well known in the state baseball ranks, as he managed a semi-pro, barnstorming team and also clubs in Lincoln and Grand Island in the Nebraska State League. He was instrumental in building old Landis Field in Lincoln, the west "P" street frontrunner to the Capital City's Sherman Field.

In Grand Island, Beltzer was president of both the Grand Island Trust Co. and Home Federal Savings and Loan, positions he held until his death in 1959.

Strength is Confidence

"Strength is Confidence"... These three words express the philosophy of the baseball staff at the University of Nebraska, concerning physical conditioning and weight training. It is apparent that modern-day athletes are getting bigger, stronger and faster. In order to be competitive at the major college level, a strength program must be an essential component for a successful experience.

Weight training and baseball—are they compatible? Yes, definitely, if they are done in the proper fashion. The soundness of any weight program lies in the contention that such a program must meet the needs and objectives of the individual to further his skills for a given sport. The weight routine utilized at Nebraska is specific for the baseball athlete. It is devised to develop strength and flexibility for the athlete so to establish a physical base from which baseball skills may be cultivated.

Coach Dave Van Horn and his staff feel NU's strength program is an essential phase of Husker baseball success, but rather is specifically suited for the baseball athlete. With this program, and with the facilities and supervision available, your collegiate and perhaps professional baseball career would be enhanced from attending Nebraska.

Nebraska Academic Support

Hewit and Boekel Centers

Nebraska's academic facilities are among the finest in the nation. In fact, College Athletic Management Magazine and Walt Disney Corporation have honored the Huskers' support system as the most comprehensive and innovative in the country. Located in the west stadium, the Hewit and Boekel Academic Center allows Nebraska student-athletes access to the latest academic support. The $2.3 million academic complex originated in 1983 and was expanded in 1989 to nearly 30,000 square feet in size. Built from generous donations from the Boekel and Hewit families, the center allows student-athletes to enjoy and benefit from the best academic support center in the country.

Hewit Center Performance Buffet

Located within the Hewit Center, Nebraska's dining room provides lunch and dinner for Husker student-athletes. Full-time nutritionist Dave Ellis makes sure the Huskers are eating healthy and are prepared for each match. The dining room area is also a great area for student-athletes to study and socialize.

Coach Dave Van Horn

New Coach Seeks to Fire Up NU

Van Horn's Coaching Philosophy

"To compete in a conference as strong as the Big 12 we must recruit top student-athletes nationally, and our teams must be organized, prepared and be able to execute fundamentals. A big part of our jobs as coaches is to help prepare our athletes academically, socially and personally to move in a positive direction after they graduate from the University of Nebraska."

Van Horn on the Huskers' Future

"With the immediate plans for stadium improvements or a new facility and the excitement from the state of Nebraska about baseball, I feel this program can be a top 30 program each year. Our recruiting efforts and player development should establish us as a contender in the always tough Big 12 Conference. I am excited about the endless opportunities here at the University of Nebraska and look forward to taking the program into the 21st Century."
